What else is in it for you as an employer?

SOCIAL PARTNERSHIP

Providing work experience is an opportunity to give back to your community. Corporate social responsibility strategies are an important part of the service many companies provide for their staff, customers and the communities in which they do business.

REPUTATIONAL GAIN

Having a work experience program can improve the image of a company locally and nationally and can be used in marketing and PR.

FUTURE RECRUITMENT

Work experience provides a recruitment source, with the opportunity to observe potential candidates in the workplace.

STAFF DEVELOPMENT AND ENGAGEMENT

Participating in a work experience program can create and maintain a training atmosphere in the workplace. Communication and training skills of current employees can be enhanced through coaching, counselling and influencing a work experience participant. In turn, this can boost employee morale.

INCREASED RESOURCES

A person on work experience can provide an additional resource and bring fresh ideas into the workplace.

WORKERS COMPENSATION BOARD COVERAGE

Our participants have WCB coverage through the Government of Alberta while on work experience.
